MYSTERIOUS GLOW IN SKY

An Associated Press release in papers on Thanksgiving Day told of a mysterious glow in the sky just around dawn the day before and seen over a vast Midwest and Eastern area of the nation. The light was described as bigger than the moon and seemingly trailing smoke or a comet-like tail.

Various experts over the area were said to have attributed the glow to various causes: Dropping of tinfoil chaff at high altitude by jet aircraft in radar jamming exercises near Detroit; a huge weather balloon sent up at 4:00 A. M. EST over Sioux Falls, S. D.; Tiros II sent up at Cape Canaveral, Fla.; phenomena in the skies caused by the sun's rays; a rocket; a flying saucer.

Did all these things happen simultaneously? Was one cause responsible for this big glow? Does anyone know for certain? We're curious.

THE CLUB LIBRARY

The Club has a growing library of books and magazines on UFO's, sightings, "flying saucers" through the ages, and related material, as well as some books of fiction not related to UFO's. (continued over)

Much credit should be given to A. Neal Pinkerton for his work as book librarian. He has selected many of the books in the library. Other books have been donated by club members.

Mr. Pinkerton has worked out a simple but quite effective system of cataloging and indexing the books, as well as a card control system. The books are always at the library counter during each lecture meeting.

Those wishing to borrow books are required to pay a deposit, with club members being entitled to a reduced deposit price. Patrons are allowed to keep books for four weeks. Those finding themselves unable to return the books personally may mail them to Mr. Pinkerton, Box 412, Main Post Office, Kansas City, Mo. If the package is marked LIBRARY MATERIAL the mailing rate is much lower than the regular parcel post rate.

WILLIAMSON SPEAKS AT NOVEMBER MEETING

In his address on Tuesday night, Nov. 29, at Drexel Hall, Dr. George Hunt Williamson kept his audience keenly interested as he spoke on the "Footprints of Prophecy." As an introduction to his lecture, Dr. Williamson gave the highlights of his growing interest in space ships following the Kenneth Arnold incident in 1947. This interest developed into his radio contacts with the intelligences operating the UFO's, or space craft, and finally to a meeting between Williamson and George Adamski for the purpose of seeing a UFO at close range in a vicinity where others had seen such crafts. The effort was successful. The meeting was made in November, 1952, and although only Adamski made the actual contact, Dr. Williamson took pictures of the locale after the craft took off into the air. He also took snapshots of the footprints of the space man and made some plaster casts of the footprints which enabled him to make drawings of the symbols in the footprints. Dr. Williamson believes the symbols were on an outer layer of material attached to the sandal soles for the sole purpose of leaving a message to earth people.

Dr. Williamson used slides to illustrate his lecture in which he gave his interpretation of the symbols in the footprints, showing how the symbols depicted man's past, present and future on earth.

As an anthropologist, Dr. Williamson has gathered a vast collection of legends and folk lore from various tribes of Indians, both in North and South America. Nearly all North American tribes, he said, have stories of "heavenly visitors" who came to bring help to their people. These stories are all very similar to each other and are almost identical to stories of actual contacts and sightings of "flying saucers" by people today. One message given to Williamson and his friends was that all through history the UFO's have always appeared during times of great crisis.

Dr. Williamson was accompanied by his assistant, Greg Beamer.

UNSCHEDULED MEETING HELD IN DECEMBER

Major Wayne S. Aho arrived here December first for a lecture that evening. With very short notice beforehand, it was impossible to send out announcements and also impossible to secure Drexel Hall. The meeting was held in Watson Memorial Church in Independence, as announced from the platform at the Williamson lecture. A fair-sized group attended.

Major Aho spoke at length on the spiritual aspects of UFology, relating his own spiritual experience of last winter. Many favorable comments were made on the lecture.

By recent action of the Executive Board, the tape librarian, Ken Priest, is the only one authorized to dispense tapes of lectures to other organizations. Only those holding membership in the U.F.O. Study Club of Kansas City are entitled to make tapes of lectures; others must have special permission from the club president, Paul Wheeler.

A new product now being offered is being vouched for enthusiastically by those in this community who have given it a fair trial. It is called Mineralife, is a natural mineral food and may be secured locally from both Paul Wheeler and Ken Priest.
